Appearances also see Downton Downton the program of Charlie Parks (illegitimate son) Governor in Downton Abbey (former) Governor / Cook at Crawley House (former) Governor / Cook for Mrs. Watson (present) Ethel Parks was a waitress at Downton Abbey who began working there in 1916, but was rejected in 1918 by Mrs. Hughes. Biography 1916-1919 Ethel was previously head cleaning - although on two maids - in a much smaller family and suffers from her inferior position to Downton. She did not like to be told what to do, especially from Anna, and had often been urged to do her job. She thought that others were looking down on her, and that she needed Gaina power over them.A She was a modern woman who was eun independent was reluctant to BEA instructed on how to perform certain tasks.Å She did not want to be on duty, and would have preferred Havea spent her time reading Hollywood magazines and gossip, and did not shed light on her perceived suffering. As such, she is the target of many of Lady Sarah O'Brien's maid jokes. Wanting more than he had in his position at Downton, he began a relationship with Major Charles BryantÅ while he was in treatment at Downton. She was rejected with Mrs. Hughes when they are discovered together naked in a closet. However, she came back later, when she found out she was pregnant by the Mayor, because she had somewhere else to go. Fortunately, Mrs. Hughes assists you and secretly watches over you. She later found out that Major Bryant died in one of the last battles of World War I, Ethel does not express great sadness to this, because she had written him several times asking him to help her and he had ignored it. After Ethel had her son, Charlie, she found out the major's parents were coming, and I thought they might be able to help her. Mrs. Hughes and Ethel intend to tell the Major's mother and her to ask for help. Ethel broke into the lunch they were having and told the elder's parents that Charlie was their grandson. The major's father immediately rejected the idea, believing that if his son had had a child he would tell them. Later the parents of the major returned, having time had to digest and believe the story Ethel told them. They wanted to pick up Charlie as their grandson and send him to the best schools. However, their offer was that Ethel could only have him when he was old enough to know what happened. Ethel asked if she could be her nanny, but the Major's father vetoed the idea, saying that Ethel would tell Charlie of his descent. They gave Ethel some time to think about it, and she decided to keep Charlie because it was what mattered most to her.1920 Ethel stands on the road and watches Isobel Crawley walk. In 1920, Isobel Crawley took the cause of Prostitutes break away from their old lives. He found out Ethel had taken prostitution after seeing her in York. Later, Ethel came to ask for help from Isobel, Buta was just continuing to start asking for her help before repeatedly changing her mind and running away. running away. The address of Got Ethel from Mrs. Hughes and when the Isobel Founda Ethel apartment, he found himself face to face with one of his customers at the door. Ethel insisted on the fact that she has never been looking for help for himself, I insisting (despite the beliefs of Isobel) that you spent the crying of a child help. Coming from the inside reveals exactly who was looking for Help for. However, Ethel closed the door to Isobel Volta Again.å Ethel says goodbye to her son. In the end, Ethel took the heartbreaking decision to let the grandparents of her son bring him with a sé. Isobel had contacted Bryants on behalf of her. Mr. Bryant had Ethel looked at and he knew how he had lived. He offered him money to him so that she wouldn't need to earn money in this way, and Charlie would not be exposed to it. Mr Bryant insulted Ethel questioned if she liked her work and she didn't want to give up. Ethel didn't think Mr. Bryant was a kind man, but she believes he loves Charlie. She told him that she didn't want her money to him. She understood that when she decided to refuse their offer to adopt him and keep him herself, she was for selfish reasons, and that they could give the best life with the best education and the best schools. Ethel is told by Mrs. Bryant who will write and news of sending Charite, but how to care Lei Ethel looked away and crying, as if her heart was breaking. Isobel does not agree with her to give up her little girl, but supported her. Ethel abandoned prostitution as she had only done to provide for Charlie, but he is now gone and didn't care if she had survived. Isobel then decided to take Ethel in Crawley Her house as a maid. Lady bird, cook and long date maid of Crawley, resigned as a sign of protest against the decision to take Ethel. Ethel was still treated as a woman lost by many people in the village of Downton who knew the story of her. She was left to cry on the street a day when the grocer's wife refused to serve her. Because of the past of Ethel, Mr. Carson probi all downstairs the staff used at Downton from the visit Crawley House.å Defying this ban, Mrs. Patmore accepted to help EthelÅ, in the form of whenå recipes, Ethel had to cook for Isobel, Violet, Mary, Edith and Cora. She revealed to herself of having learned well. Carson said Robert Crawley on the situation and he was quite angry that he was cooking for the ladies, who burst into their lunch asking that they go to one time. They remain put and continue to eat, after that Robert left. Despite the part of her in defending Ethel to lunch, Violeta insisted eththe spent her had touched the entire Crawley family in the scandal, and without saying it to Ethel or Isobel, å took place Edith Crawley one For Ethel in the card. Even Mrs. Hughes has accepted this was the opportunity for Ethel to start his finished life. without his past opacità Her.å Ethel looked at many answers, but no one appeals to her, except one with Ms. Watson, who He lived in Cheadle, close to where the Bryants live. She she Do not accept this position because you and isobel agreement that the goal of leaving its past behind should be vanifed. Isobel said Violet on this and as she suspected the proximity to Charlie was probably the reason why Ethel was interested, but that the Bryants would discover him sooner or later. Violet wrote to her and Isobel Ethel invites to lunch and with a great Ethel's surprise, he found Mrs. Bryant l even. Violet had written to Mrs. Bryant to explain the situation to her. Mrs. Bryant said Ethel to accept work with Ms. Watson. He said she had always thought wrong to keep a mother of his son, until he is confused at least until he is Older.å, he also secured Ethel would deal with Mr. Bryant.å, Ethel, now very much Woman changed, å, she was happy to get to see her son. She advanced the idea she will tell you that she used to work for them and she was her former nanny of her. She said that until she could see and talk to him sometimes she would have been happy. Appartions Notes When you started before working in Downton It is possible that Ethel was taking the same position than Gwen Dawson previously held. It is unlikely, since Gwen left downton in 1914 and Ethel yes in 1916, that she is the only person to have replaced Gwen. Ethel decides to give Charlie to his grandparents to raise May 1920 as she had ended up becoming prostitutes to feed herself and Charlie and she realized that she couldn't give her life she deserved. After helping Ethel get in touch with Charlie's grandparents, Isobel Crawley assumes Ethel as a cook in her house, so much for the iris of her existing cook, Mrs. Bird, who immediately closes her place due to the presence of Ethel . The countess widow helps Ethel get in touch with Mrs. Bryant to ask if she can see Charlie. Mrs. Bryant agrees and Ethel leaves the use of Crawley. References References
